

UDSMR®

IRF PPS Quality Indicator Resources

- Webinars, regional workshops, and on-site education
- Coding and assessment tools
- Educational resources
- Credentialing
- Documentation support

While other vendors suggest you wait to train your staff on the October 1 changes, UDSMR has the quality indicator (QI) training and resources you need right now. Why wait to train your staff on something that affects your IRF PPS payment?

Whether you're looking for dependable education or online QI credentialing, we have you covered with the industry's most comprehensive training options.

Upcoming spring workshops:

- UDSMR® Admission Liaison Workshop/Certification: April 29–30, St. Louis
- UDSMR® IRF ICD-10 Coder and PPS Coordinator Competency: Putting What You Know to the Test: May 1, St. Louis
- Quality Indicator Overview: A Clinical, Technical, and Analytical Perspective: April 3, Orlando and May 15, Las Vegas
- IRF Program Directors: Making Your Program Successful: June 17–18, Charlotte
- Keys to Coding the Quality Indicators: June 19, Charlotte

Upcoming webinars:

- Keys to Coding the Quality Indicators: April 9, 16, 23, and 30
- Comprehensive Review of Section GG: July 10

Available quality measure resources:

- QI FAQs
- Drug regimen review tracking tool
- Cognitive patterns worksheet
- QI self-care and mobility data collection sheet
- Section GG: Activity occurred/not attempted worksheets
- Coming soon! IRF-PAI section GG coding guide and QI coding scenarios

Available quality measure reporting:

- FIM® item vs. section GG item coding patterns
- Frequency of section GG item-level coding comparatives
- Data completeness checks to avoid 2% payment penalties
- Patient-level QI admission informatics
- Section GG item-level reporting with benchmarks
- New! Reporting on drug regimen review data

Don't wait! Ensure the accuracy of your program's payment under the new CMS FY 2020 case-mix groups (CMGs). For more information on how UDSMR can help prepare your team, visit www.udsmr.org or contact us today at subscriptioninfo@udsmr.org or 716-817-7856.

Uniform Data System for Medical Rehabilitation

270 Northpointe Parkway, Suite 300 • Amherst, NY 14228
tel: 716-817-7800 • fax: 716-568-0037 • web: www.udsmr.org